

Live Auction Items

- 1. Fall Equinox Field-to-Table Dinner. Join Rev. Carol and her fiancé Tracy for a real farm-to-table dinner: All the food to be served is grown/raised on their farm. You also will get to meet the chickens and ducks, tour the gardens, and hear about just how they manage sustainable, regenerative farming. One of last year's attendees (a moderately picky person) tells us that it was fantastic! September 19, 2020. 6 places.
- 2. Window Washing. A clear-sighted psychiatrist will wash all the windows of your house, inside and out. Previous buyers of this have raved. (Psychiatric consultation extra). Offered by Mike Fisher. Starting bid $75. 1 place.
- 3. Sermon Topic of Your Choice. You get the opportunity to tell Rev. Carol what you'd like her to preach about. Yes, really! She'll provide the rest of the service, or you can collaborate with her—your choice—so you just make your wishes known. Starting bid $50. 2 places.
- 4. Cinco de Mayo Dinner. Join Dave and Ellen Greenwood for a fiesta in celebration of Cinco de Mayo. The evening will feature chiles rellenos and other flavorful cuisine from south of the border plus sangria, cervezas, and conversation, both hot and mild. Saturday, May 2 (close to el cinco). 8 places.
- 5. "Kundo" German Anniversary 400-Day Clock. This clock, dating from mid-century, has been completely serviced with parts replaced as needed by clock-meister Mike O-Hair. It's being donated jointly by Mike (who will consult as needed) and by owner Bob Valiga. Want to give someone (or yourself?) a truly stunning gift? Minimum bid, $75. 1 place.
- 6. Thanksgiving Turkey. Jerry describes this as "a spicy treat for Thanksgiving," and Jerry KNOWS his turkeys. Offered by Jerry Thornton. Starting bid $40. 1 place.

Fixed Price Items

Sign up for these on the triangular notice board, and be sure to record them on your record card. Remember to write each buyer’s name on a separate line, both on the sign-up sheet and on your record form. And remember that items with a limited number of spaces are just that: if they’re full, they are full.

- 1. Book Club Brunch. The Westside Book Club members will host a brunch on Saturday, February 29, 2020 at the church. Menu: Sausage rolls, hash brown casserole, bagels, cream cheese, smoked salmon, quiche, coffee, tea, orange juice, and a cash mimosa bar. $15/adults & teens, $5/preteen, under 5 free. Unlimited spaces.
- 2. Dungeons and Dragons. Join the Ringelspaugh family in their home as we enter fantasy realms and take on the roles of wizards, bards, rogues, fighters, etc. Perhaps we will encounter elves or dragons, trolls or orcs! Bryan Ringelspaugh will act as Dungeon Master. Players of all experience levels welcome. Character creation and beginner help is available as needed the week before. We will be playing 5th edition; all items needed for play provided. Snacks and drinks provided also. Saturday, January 18 at 2 pm. $15/person. 5 places.
- 3. A Picnic and a Walk in the Woods! Join Alice and Jerry for lunch followed by a walk in the woods. The destination is a mystery at this point, but knowing them it will be lovely...and it will be wildflower season. Offered by Jerry and Alice Thornton. Saturday, April 18, 2020. $15/adults; $5/children under 11. 20 places.
- 4. History at Green-McAdoo and Hoskins. Offered by Jerry and Alice Thornton. Saturday, February 1, 2020 . $15/adult. $10/child under 11. 15 places.

Costumes optional; FYI: most people dressed very roughly because cloth was expensive and scarce. Sunday, January 5, 2020 from 4-7 pm at the church. 20 places. $20/person.
12. Astrology Reading. Eric writes, "I use astrology as a knowledge system to identify your unique opportunities, the ones that can radically change your life for the better. Career, business, love, marriage, interpersonal relationships, money—your own set of what/where/when and how's. It's like a treasure map. You can use it to move your life journey to a new, higher plane. My approach is holistic. I am a crib-bilingual astrologer, meaning I grew up speaking the language. No astrobabble." See the full text of his explanation and his credentials next to the signup form, or contact either Suzanne Molnar or Eric himself. $175. 1 place.
13. Lunch and Wildflower Hike. Meet at Westside for soup and sandwiches, then head out (approximately 20 minutes) to Haw Ridge Park for a hike to a secluded cove that usually is filled with wildflowers in the spring. You never can be sure what beauties will be making an appearance, but past displays have included lots of woodland phlox and dwarf larkspur plus dwarf crested iris, foam flowers, yellow trillium, jack in the pulpits, and more. There is not much elevation change, but the trail does have loose rock and exposed tree roots. Offered by Barry Shumpert. April 11, 12-4 p.m. $15/person. 12 places.

14. Speak for your Animal on the Page. Stellasue Lee, PhD, is offering another writing class for us. (People who attended last year were wildly enthusiastic.) This is a quite different version and is titled, "How to write in the voice of a neurotic genius (your pet)." Come prepared to do writing exercises. Sharing is optional. Bring your lunch. Held at Westside, 10:30 AM – 3 PM, Saturday, March 14, 2020. $85/person. Places: minimum 6, no maximum.

15. English Tea. A tradition at Westside! Our adopted English chef will put on an authentic, delightful English tea – did we mention "English"? Saturday, April 18, 3-6 p.m. $10/person. 30 places.
